visplore

Do you want to use your passion and talent to make industry more sustainable with us?

Visplore is a highly interactive software solution for visual data analytics in industry. Our mission is to help Industry 4.0 master the digital transformation. Our self-service analytics software empowers engineers and data scientists in turning data from industrial assets and processes into business value and data-backed decisions within minutes. Visplore customers worldwide have gained key insights how to reduce energy consumption, downtimes, waste, and hours of experts spent on data preparation and routine reporting.

You'll work in an inspiring startup atmosphere: 20+ talents from 10 nations, located in central Vienna, backed by multiple European VC investors, and a fast-growing base of top brands as customers. To further drive our product development, we are extending our team with a

Software development project manager (m/f/x)

In this full-time (38.5h) position, you will be responsible for ensuring the successful planning and monitoring of our development process in close collaboration with a team of skilled developers.

Who you are

- You have a degree in computer science, business informatics, or similar
- Your experience in the management of software projects and the creation of specifications is based on at least 3 years of practice
- You are familiar with agile methods and user interface design;
  Basic knowledge of C++ is a plus, even though this is not a programming position
- You have experience and enthusiasm for data analytics and a quick understanding of use cases; knowledge of industrial analytics use cases is a plus
- You are working in a structured, reliable, and independent manner
- Your communication in written and spoken English is very good, German is a plus
- You are a team player and have good social skills
- You are an EU citizen or have a valid work permit in Austria and you are willing to relocate to Vienna

What you will do

You will be supervising a team of talented developers, coordinating the team and ensuring constructive communication between developers, stakeholders and other departments (e.g. testing).

You will be responsible for the team's output in terms of quality, adherence to timelines, and stakeholder requirements. You will partner with the Senior Developers who will take responsibility over the technical direction of the projects.

Your responsibility will be divided into the following categories:

Quality:

- Shape the development process to fit the needs of the team and stakeholders
- Acting as first line of quality assurance for new developments by performing user acceptance tests and providing initial feedback

Timelines:

- You are responsible for managing the incoming workflow for developers, taking incoming requests, managing stakeholder requirements and help developers set priorities for new feature developments
- You have a good overview of the project progress and deadlines. You recognize potential problems quickly, and ensure adherence to the development process

Stakeholder management:

- Based on stakeholder requirements and user stories, you create specifications and UI designs for new developments
- You report progress, and coordinate with the management and other stakeholders

Why you will love working at Visplore

- Varied activity with creative freedom to shape the development process
- Cooperative startup atmosphere in an international team
- Interesting use cases with world-leading enterprises
- Uncomplicated and transparent decision-making processes
- Central working location in one of the most attractive districts of Vienna (7th district close to Mariahilfer Straße), well reachable by public transport
- Flexible working time
- Company events and team activities

We offer a fixed annual gross salary of at least 63.000€, higher salaries are possible based on your qualification.

You are thrilled by the opportunities of the digital transformation as much as we are, and want to help our mission of making industries more sustainable through data analytics?

Then send your application now!

Contact

Noora Lehtonen
recruiting@visplore.com, Tel.: +43 660 1057 154